A new generation of stables!

Equicare represents the world's most advanced and technologically sophisticated system for the automated distribution of feed, medications, and bedding materials within the equine sector.

An innovative solution capable of automating the majority of daily operations within your facility, achieving a level of efficiency and operational control that until recently was unimaginable.

Touch Control Station

Human Machine Interface

The system is fully automated and easily programmable thanks to a powerful dedicated software platform, allowing you to:

- set dispensing quantities with absolute precision, eliminating any margin of error
- schedule customized feeding times for each individual stall
- continuously monitor the entire stable management cycle
- detect and report any operational anomalies or critical issues

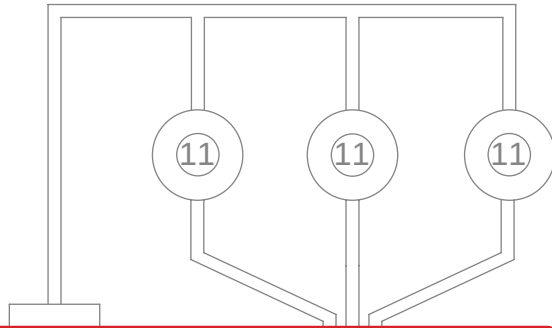

Management is carried out conveniently via a touch screen interface from the office or through a dedicated mobile app, enabling the operator to modify programming in real time according to immediate needs.

Equicare can be installed both in newly constructed facilities and in existing stables, adapting perfectly to any layout configuration.

EQUICARE

System advantages

Reduction of Operating Costs

- Elimination of feed and bedding material waste
- Always precise and controlled dosing
- Optimization of inventory stock levels
- Reduced losses due to human error

Management Efficiency

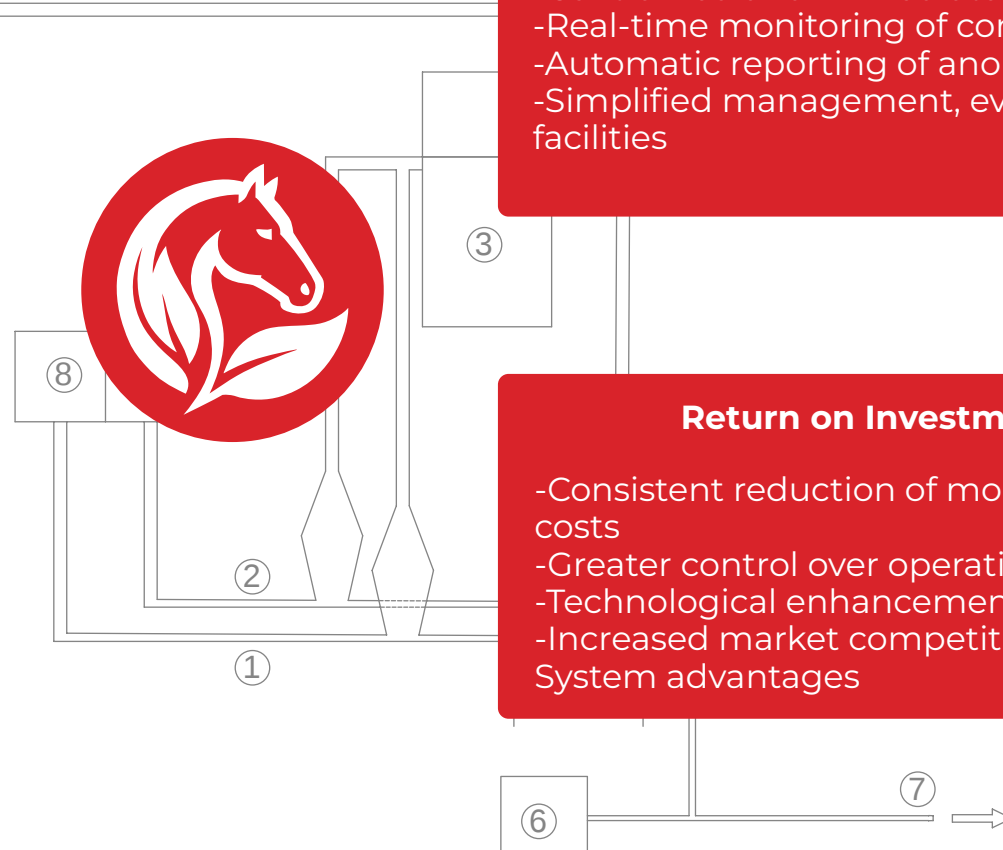

- Centralized and immediate scheduling
- Real-time monitoring of consumption
- Automatic reporting of anomalies
- Simplified management, even for large-scale facilities

Labor Cost Savings

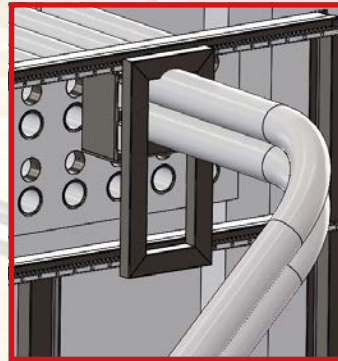

- Automation of repetitive daily operations
- Reduction of hours dedicated to distribution and monitoring
- Increased staff productivity
- Ability to reduce or reallocate human resources

Return on Investment (ROI)

- Consistent reduction of monthly operating costs
- Greater control over operational margins
- Technological enhancement of the facility
- Increased market competitiveness

+EFFICIENCY

Italyvacuum uses only high-efficiency premium or super-premium class motors that drastically reduce energy consumption through responsible power management. These motors not only outperform traditional motors at the same power level, but also maintain high efficiency across varying loads, ensuring optimal performance under all operating conditions.
